Direct Hay Weighted Average Report for week ending 2/4/2022

Volume
This Week	Last Reported ( )	Last Year

Please Note: The above volumes (tonnage, acres, and bales) listed on this USDA LPGMN report are for confirmed trades only, it does not include estimated volume (tonnage) for bids or offers to the trade.

Compared to the last report: Hay prices are steady in all regions. Hay trade was limited this week due to winter weather conditions that blanketed the majority of the state. Northern regions received upwards of 2 to 4 inches of snow. While the Central, Northern, and Eastern regions received rain first causing ice to accumulate on the roads. The Southeast Region received widespread heavy rain, leading to improvements in ongoing moderate drought and abnormal dryness there according to the US Drought Monitor. The majority of the state is still in need of more moisture as drought conditions have expanded in South Central and the Panhandle.

***Due to limited sales and price changes this report will be released bi-weekly until more volumes of hay is moving.***

*** The next report release will be February 18th***
